Each letter is accompanied by a notice of reception, to be returned by the church to which it is addressed. Spaces are left in which to write the names of the churches and the dates and signatures of clerks. These are bound in books of fifty each, with stubs which preserve the record of the letters granted and of the return notices received. Being arranged with perforations, the letters may easily be detached for use.

Price per book of fifty, $1.00.

PREFACE

To the Combined Register and Record.

THIS book is intended to furnish to the churches of our order the forms for a complete and condensed Register and Record. It has a place for all that is essential and for more than is usually recorded by the clerks of our churches. It is based on the experience of a pastor of systematic habits who has had to do with model church clerks. It is simpler than other books made for the same purpose and lower in price. This last is especially true of the edition intended for the newer and smaller churches.

A place is prepared for the register of Pastors, Deacons, other officers, Delegates appointed by the church, Baptisms, Members Received, Members Removed, Marriages, Charities and Expenses, an Annual Summary of the figures furnished for the Year-Book, and a page for the statistics of the Sunday-school. To this there are added in the smaller edition pages for records of organization and church meetings, and in the larger, where a separate book for records is desirable (which is published under the name of "The Pilgrim Church Record"), an alphabetical index. This, it is believed, comprises all which any church really needs to keep a complete account of its transactions and condition.

In the register of Members Received the numbers in the left-hand column should be consecutive, the names being recorded according to the date of reception. This same number should be repeated wherever the name of the person to whom it refers is used in the lists of officers or members.

In the page of Charities our seven denominational societies are named in the order in which they appear in the Year-Book. Other objects may be written in. Each perpendicular column stands for one year; the totals may thus be easily added. The amounts given to each object should include all money which has gone to it through the church treasurer, the Sunday-school, and any of the organized missionary societies of the church.

The suggestions following are commended to the attention of Clerks and Pastors.

GEORGE M. BOYNTON,

Secretary Congregational Sunday-School and Publishing Society.

TO CHURCH CLERKS.

Suggestions as to the Records of a Church.

As it is frequently the case that the duties of Church Clerk are laid upon those who have had no experience in such work, it has been thought wise to give a few practical suggestions and forms for recording the ordinary business of a church.

In the matter of organization it is of importance and of increasing interest as the years pass by, to have a full and exact history recorded of the beginnings of a Christian church.

If it has not been done at the time, let each Church Clerk procure the facts in regard to the first steps which led to the organization, and the first preliminary meeting, with the names of those present. If the Sunday-school was at the foundation of the church, write an account of that, by whom gathered, the numbers at the beginning, etc. Be sure and record the vote by which the organization was determined. Record in full the Constitution and Articles of Faith and Covenant adopted; and, if the church is legally incorporated, a copy of the Articles of Incorporation.

Only records of church meetings should be entered in this book. If the church committee keep records of their doings, it should be in a separate book and not among the records of the church.

What to enter in the records.—It is not necessary nor usually advisable to record discussions or the names of those taking part in them, or of the movers of resolutions. The records are of the things which have been resolved and voted by the church, and should be confined strictly to these.

The important things to be entered are:—1. The time and place of meeting. 2. The devotional services with which the meeting is opened. 3. The name of the moderator. 4. The reading of records of past meetings and their approval by the church. 5. The reports of committees accepted and by vote placed on file (not to be copied into the minutes but referred to). 6. The recommendations of committees adopted, or the resolutions or motions passed by vote of the church. 7. The adjournment. 8. The signature of the Clerk.

The records of the Annual Meeting should be made with especial care. The fact that the notice was given as required by the Constitution of the church should be stated, and the reports received, elections of officers, and votes of the meeting should be carefully recorded. It is not necessary nor wise to enter in the records the names of those who receive votes but are not elected, nor the number of votes cast for or against any officer who is elected. The fact of the election and the mode, as by ballot or acclamation, are enough.

In meetings relating to the call of a Pastor, it is customary to record the votes more fully; to spread upon the records the letter extending the call to him, and his answer thereto, and the appointment of the committee to arrange for a council, if one is held, and the reference of this action to the society for their concurrence, if that is a necessary part of the action.

The following forms for recording the ordinary transactions of a church meeting are given, not as the only right way, but as a simple and correct mode of expressing the facts:—

A meeting of the Church was held at [place, month, day, year, hour, P.M. or A.M.], [the Pastor, Deacon —, or Bro. —] in the chair. Prayer was offered by [—].

The Records of the last [or — number of previous meetings] were read and approved.

The Committee on — reported in writing and their report was accepted and ordered on file; [or] reported verbally and their report was accepted and the following recommendation adopted:—[here quote exactly the recommendation thus adopted].

It was Voted that [here record the question exactly as put by the moderator]; or, It was Resolved that:—[here copy the resolution, which should always be presented in writing by the mover].

The Church Committee reported that the following persons had presented letters of dismission and recommendation to this church, namely:—

Mr. — and Mrs. —, his wife, from the — Church of —; also, Miss —, from the — Church of —. The committee recommend that they be received to its membership, on entering into covenant with the Church. Also, that — and — be received upon confession of their faith and entering into covenant. The recommendation was adopted.*

Mr. —, having absented himself from the meetings of this church for — years, and refusing to recognize his covenant obligations to it after faithful effort on the part of the Church; [or] having been absent from this place for — years and the Church being unable to ascertain his address or to communicate with him; [or] having become a persistent violator of the — Commandment and refusing to amend his life [or any other careful statement of the facts of the case], is hereby declared to be no longer in the communion of this Church.

Adjourned.

(Signed.)

— [Clerk.]

*The record may be completed by a note signed by the Clerk, as follows:—[Note.] The above persons were thus publicly received on Sunday [month, day].

[Forms for Letters Missive for the organization of a church, the ordination or installation of a minister, and for a letter of dismission can be found in Roy's Manual, and with many other forms for less frequent use in Dexter's Handbook of Congregationalism.]

TO PASTORS.

While a register is indispensable to a Church Clerk, it is a great convenience and aid to the Pastor to keep a similar book for himself, for his present use and for his permanent possession. It will often prove a help in securing accuracy on the part of the Clerk, by at least annual comparison when the report is made for the state minutes.

A suggestion is also offered, which has been found of practical advantage by the writer, as to the best way, especially in a large church, of keeping an accurate PARISH REGISTER, or list of families. This is by the use of the card catalogue system which is employed in all our large libraries. In a changing parish an alphabetical list of families and their members, in a book, soon becomes involved in confusion. What with erasures and insertions the original order and connection cannot be maintained. The following plan works admirably:—

Buy or make blank cards or slips of stiff paper of the size of a postal-card. Get enough, slightly tinted, to furnish one for each family in the congregation as it is when you assume its pastorate. Write plainly or print the family name at the top, below that the other names of the father and mother; under them, indented, the name of each of the children, separating those above fourteen and those under that age by a line. Still below, place the names of any other members of the family. After the name, if a member of the church, put the number which stands against that name in your church register. Indicate other relations to the church by letters. B means baptized; S, member of the Sunday-school; T, teacher; etc. Keep these cards in alphabetical order.

For those who come into your congregation after the beginning of your pastorate, supply white cards, and record the relation to the church in the same way. On either set of cards enter in red ink the fact of baptism or church membership if under your ministry. You will thus have a complete record, and always in alphabetical order.

When a family removes of which some member is still connected with your church, take the card from its place among the resident families and put it in order in a separate place, and when the entire family has both removed and become entirely disconnected with the church, in a third place. It is easy to arrange a box or a partition in a drawer of your study table with two movable partitions to divide these three classes. If you are to call on any families and desire to be sure of remembering the names of all their members, you can take the cards and carry them with you while you are making your afternoon or evening round.

Rev Henry S. Dues letter of acceptance
 To the Church and Ecclesiastical Society of the Congregational Church of Westhampton Mass
 Dear Brethren

On Thursday the 5th day of January, I received from you the letter extending to me a call to become your pastor. After due consideration, and then meeting with my Executive board, I have concluded to accept your invitation to become your pastor, with the feeling that a Divine influence has led to this decision.
 I hope and pray that this union will result in much good, and the leading of many souls into the Kingdom - And Church.

This cannot be done by the pastor alone - Three parties must be interested in the work. The Holy Spirit - the Church - and he whom you have chosen as under shepherd. Let us pray often - and read the 2nd Chapter of the Acts of the Apostles - and the 13th Chapter of 1st Corinthians.

The Executive Board of East Hstead Church wish to hold me to my agreement with them of three months notice - unless I

Can find them a suitable man to take my place as pastor of this Church - Then they will release me within the three months.

I may not be able to be with you before the first of April.
In the meantime I shall look for a man to fill my place, that I may commence my labors with the Wetherspton Society at the earliest moment.

Wishing you Grace, Mercy & Peace
I remain your Henry S. Love.

June 24 Rev Henry S. Dore resigned as pastor to take effect July 31

To the Church and Parish of Westhampton:
 Twelve and a half years ago, you asked me to become your spiritual teacher and pastor. I accepted the sacred office, depending upon the great Head of the Church for leadership and guidance.

During these years of service, I have asked for insight and guidance that I might go in and out among you as a pastor should.

If I have led you further into green pastures and beside more tranquil waters, my stay among you will not have been in vain.

I now ask you to accept back from my heart this sacred charge, and also that this relationship be terminated July 31, 1877.

Wishing you grace mercy and peace,
 Henry S. Dore.

Resolutions

Whereas,

Mr. Henry S. Dues, after serving the Northampton Congregational Church for 12½ years, was assigned his pastorate, to become the pastor of the Congregational Church in Whately, and whereas, his term of service has been longer than any since the time of Brown Hale, we wish to express to him our sincere appreciation of the earnest and faithful work.

He has aided in cataloging the books of our German Library.

He gave substantial aid in redecorating the church.

Through the co-operation of Mr. Dues a new pipe organ has been secured.

He commended his work both at West Farms and in connection with the "Isabel Tent".

During Mr. Dues' pastorate one hundred and six have joined the church.

Eighty six on confession of faith, twenty by letter. Many of the members here will long remember his kindness and sympathy in times of sorrow.

Therefore be it resolved, that with this token of appreciation we extend to Mr. & Mrs. Dues our heartfelt wishes for many years of usefulness and happiness in their new church relations. May their united efforts result in the growth of that church and in the upbuilding of God's Kingdom.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be presented to him as a mark of our esteem and that a copy be placed on our church records.
